City Water
Odor Nets
Complaints

Drinking more water and enjoying it less? Alvin Hefft, city Water Superintendent, says it could be worse. The city has been adding Nuchar, a charcoal base product, to filter out the objectionable odor of the natural water supply.

"The river is low, hot and steamy," Hefft said, "and this causes an objectionable taste and odor." He said regardless of the odor there is no cause for concern about the water purity.

"We check it regularly and add purifying chemicals as needed, but they do not cause the odor, that is a result of weather conditions."

Many city residents have switched to other sources for their drinking water in recent weeks and local stores are finding it hard to keep up with the demand for bottled water. Coffee made from city water seems to have brought the biggest complaint and resourceful homemakers have found that it helps to boil the water for coffee and let it stand overnight.

Regardless of the odor or taste, homeowners are finding good use for city water on lawns wilting under August's 100 degree plus temperatures.

Hefft said water consumption was up considerably over last year and 1969's summer water consumption was almost twice what it had been in 1968. Hefft said this was partly due to additional water meters and partly caused by residents watering their lawns more.

He said there was no problem of water shortage in Cameron.

Water Dept. workers have been hard pressed to keep up with demands for service this summer.

Extreme temperatures and lack of rainfall causes the ground to shift and break water pipes. In addition to increased demand for water, additional purifying treatments and broken lines, city workers are installing a 6-inch sewer line on Colfax Street.

Court To Set School
Consolidation Vote

Milam County Commissioners will set a date Thursday for an election to decide consolidation of the Cameron and Milano school districts.

At a regular meeting Monday, Commissioners also decided to delay auction of the Friendship School property, after title to the property was questioned.

August 28 was set for a public hearing on the proposed county budget and the 1970-71 tax rate was set at 95 cents, the same as last year.

An appeal was heard from several landowners concerning county maintenance of a road leading to their property, which they said has been designated as a private road by another landowner.

County Judge O. B. Harden noted that the problem was not uncommon in the county and is shared by counties all over the State. Following discussion of the appeal he was authorized to ask an opinion of the State Attorney General.

Judge Harden said that the two petitions asking for the consolidation election had been checked and approved by school district officials in Milano and Cameron. One petition from each city was submitted to Commissioners and each carried sufficient signatures to meet requirements.

The election, to be held simultaneously in both districts, will probably be set for mid-September.

Emory C. Camp, Rockdale Independent School District attorney, asked Commissioners to delay sale of the Friendship School property, stating that the Rockdale school district possibly has a claim to proceeds of the sale.

The property was to be sold at public auction Monday morning, and a number of prospective bidders were on hand out in the Courthouse hall.

Camp noted that the Friendship School was consolidated with Sharp, and Sharp later consolidated with the Rockdale School District. The Commissioners will delay the sale until title to the property is clear.

In other business Commissioners approved the appointment of Mrs. Jane Cunningham as County Health Nurse, and renewed the fire protection contract with the City of Cameron for another year.

Planners
Note Way
To Future

An 87-page "base studies" report is in the hands of Cameron City Council and the eight-member City Planning Commission following its introduction Tuesday at City Hall.

The study by South/West Planning Associates and Albritton & Associates spans community goals and objectives, a history of Cameron land, economy and people.

Presentation to a combined meeting of the Council and Planning Commission was by Joseph J. McGraw, planner in charge, and Ray E. Abbott, associate, both of South/West Planning Associates.

Only a few other people met with the two groups to hear a public review of the presentation, which the planners touched lightly since copies were presented officials in advance.

MANY ILLUSTRATIONS

The study is heavily illustrated with graphs and maps which show the physical influences such as railroads, rivers and streams and projected population distribution in 1990 compared to 1970.

One commission member asked about distribution of housing in the 1990 assessment of population in the city area.

Planners believed industry would tend to expand east of existing industrial areas. The map shows housing developing up to the south side of present industrial tracts in Northwest Cameron as well as filling in existing vacant lots or replacing housing.

McGraw said planners hoped to reach a general plan, final stage by May, 1971. He said the first meeting begins a series of meetings with Council and Commission to bring out a general plan.

Planners said they invite public comment as well as official Council and Planning criticism of the plan prior to the final general plan.

Officials emphasized implementation of the plan would mean important improvements to the City of Cameron.

Final stages would create a general plan, which would bring recommendations for future planning activity after May, 1971 completion of the new one.

McGraw used an outline hung on the wall to illustrate the stages of planning.

BASIC RESEARCH

Basic research in population, environment, economy went into the study, which used various sources for tracing population development, census data on city and county and other reliable means to outline the community's background.

Planning also includes studies of "existing land use" activities by survey and map, neighborhood studies on housing conditions, blighted areas and community services, which include recreation - tourist, financial, transportation and utility resources.

Analysis of such data, similar to previous plans done in part for other phases of Cameron development, develops recommendations for preliminary future land use plan.

McGraw divided this area into land use, transportation, recreation - tourist, community services, public policies for which proposals are made.

GENERAL PLAN

Creation of a general plan, incorporating what was done before, is the end result of the present study and recommendations from the Planning Commission, which has developed a Cameron zoning ordinance among other programs studied by councilmen which require capital budget and programs and follow through on planning recommendations.

The discussion of the program for Council and Commission lasted about an hour and a half.

McGraw and Abbott said future planning would include an annual review of existing work, a complete updating every 5 to 6 years, "in house" planning and inquiry into local programs.

TOO BAD TO DRINK - Alvin Hefft, City Water Superintendent, says the temporary objectionable taste of city water is caused more by the odor than the actual taste, but Herald employee Charles McAtee says it isn't easy to drink water without smelling it. Hefft said cause of the odor was a low, hot and steamy river supply. City workers are adding Nuchar to the local water to eliminate some of the objectionable odor.

The consolidation of the Milano and Cameron school districts is a good idea.

Milano is like most small districts in this day and is not the only one in the Central Texas area headed for ultimate consolidation with a larger district.

Cameron Independent School District has come a long, repeat, long way since its struggle over valuations in 1964, a step, if avoided any longer, which would have placed the CISD system in deeper straits than existed.

Abuilding right now is a home-making building beside a band hall opened only three years ago. Cameron schools are moving modern with classroom emphasis more on academics, reading for example, while efforts to take students in this system to technical training at the high school level are surely possible.

School districts the size of Milano are able to maintain facilities, but no longer are in any position to grow. And when modern school systems lack a certain minimum size, they face attrition in their academic, sports and technical programs which jeopardize the student's future.

Milano has good school spirit. They, like Buckholts, play excellent Class B football. But the numbers game, the fact of population shift, of movement to established centers of greater size is a fact of life. Milano apparently has school patrons facing this reality. Certainly Cameron District patrons faced the reality of grow or diminish in the mid-60s.

Lott and Rosebud are consolidated, planning joint sessions this fall. Salado failed to support a consolidation for reasons not too clear. The pattern is consolidation of smaller Class B and A schools with Class AA schools like Cameron, which soon will be AAA, with or without consolidation. And the advantages of AAA competition in sports and other student activities may seem grim to coaches and faculty in the smaller systems, but certainly for the student, and he is our concern, gets more attention and the taxpayer gets more for his dollar.

It is a simple fact that a certain minimum size system is necessary to give a decent background for whatever field the student is to pursue.

We hope Milano and Cameron join.

Buckholts Ready For Fall Term

The Buckholts Rural High School District has announced schedules and faculty for the new school year. Classes will start on Monday, August 24.

Buses will run the regular hours and the lunchroom will be open.

Registration for new students is set for August 20, according to Supt. Leon L. Brady. On that date the bus drivers will attend a workshop at Blinn College.

Teachers will report August 17 for in-service training. Brady said the faculty is complete with the following members:

Jimmy Hauk, head coach and principal; Tim Johnson, assistant coach and science; Kenneth Aycock, vocational agriculture; Susan Prescott, first and second grades; Mildred Martin, third and fourth grades.

Also, Mrs. Raymond Zajicek, fifth and sixth grades; Mrs. Martha Henry, math; Mrs. Patsy Dorner, English; Linda Bethke, homemaking; Mrs. Lois Cauthen, Title I reading.

Other school personnel are Mrs. Cheryl Johnson, aide; Mrs. Frances Barrett, tax assessor; Mrs. John Mekush, lunchroom; and W. H. Malovets, custodian.

Estimated enrollment is 125 students, Brady said.

In other faculty news, Supt. Brady noted that Mrs. Gwen

Hauk, who taught English in the Buckholts School for seven years, has resigned to accept a position at Temple Junior College.

Mrs. Patsy Dorner of Temple was elected by the Buckholts School Board to fill the vacancy.

Coach Hauk has released the Buckholts Badgers football schedule, with the first game on September 11. A complete schedule will be printed in the Monday Herald.

Urging Modern Judiciary...

Chief Justice Burger sees the American judicial process for what it is, late 19th Century, and calls for vast overhaul to take the load off a judiciary buried in trials and appeals.

He proposes administrators to process cases so judges can judge, like they are supposed to do. He urges additional moneys to modernize the system, even with automation, so that antiquarian system might have a chance against the backlog and growing pile of untried cases.

Justice Burger says that fair and speedy trial is a real deterrent to rising crime. Prosecutors note the defendant is at greater advantage, guilty or not, when the court process fails of quick trial after indictment.

Justice Burger sees what must be done. He literally lobbied among influential leaders at American Bar Association a few days before his Monday speech, a first "State of the Judiciary."

He wants priorities. He asks the nation's lawyers and the American public to join in the effort to turn the situation around. He is exercising leadership in an area once so "gray" in circumspection it is now black with gloom over the prospects of recovering balance for court caseload.

And he is right. It can be done, even in the largest cities. Justice will be served if we desire its ends.

As legal language should change, Justice Burger is urging the judiciary system to change. And if American judiciary is to function, the Justice's appeal, his unprecedented zeal must be heeded.

'Hold Spending Down,' State Urgencies Urged

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
Soaring state budget requests led the Legislative Budget Board to urge all agencies to hold spending in 1972-73 to essentials.
Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Board chairman, sounded the warning that a "critical financial condition" looms which demands "economy-minded" government.
In a letter directed to state agencies, Board advises that they submit suggestions at an early date on where fat can be trimmed from their appropriations requests.
"Reluctant" fat trimmers should be invited back for a second hearing before the Board, Barnes said.
Requests already submitted reportedly exceed the expected income for the 1972-73 biennium by more than $1 billion.
Estimates of the amount of the 1971 tax bill which will be needed to support adequate services for state agencies in the face of expanding demands still range from $350 to $700 million.
Some ranking legislators fear a revenue bill of that magnitude will be virtually impossible to pass in view of the fact that lawmakers voted $350 million in new taxes only last year.
Budget Board's recommendations on spending usually are more conservative than those finally adopted by Legislature. However, they serve as take-off points for the House Appropriations Committee and Senate Finance Committee deliberations.

an advisory panel to the governor. Also the name of the agency would be changed to Department of Human Resources under Committee recommendations to be submitted to the Legislature next January.
Computer experts estimated new electronic data processing equipment could save the state an addition of 2,600 people in the Welfare Department at a cost of $8.5 million a year.
In the second day of hearings, Committee was told that administrative costs alone of the Medicaid Program were $11.6 million in Texas during less than three years. Committee recommended an "experienced executive having an insurance background" be employed to coordinate Medicaid functions now scattered among several branches of the Welfare agency.

SPECIAL OIL MEETING
World oil crisis and Hurricane Celia prompted a special meeting of the Railroad Commission this week (Aug. 10) to reassess August oil allowable.
Commission earlier had set the market demand factor at 62.9 per cent for August, which would produce about 3,220,518 barrels of oil daily.
Since that action, Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said, some companies have indicated a desire to buy additional Texas crude. On the other hand, said Ramsey, Hurricane Celia complicated movements of crude from South Texas and some West Texas fields to tidewater.
Commission invited crude purchasers and transportation executives to its Monday (Aug. 10) meeting "to assess effects of Hurricane Celia on the movement of crude, as well as the logistical problems of moving crude from other Texas areas."

AUTO INSURANCE DELAY
Texas motorists got a hint of good news: they may escape a raise in auto insurance premiums altogether this year.
Charles D. Mathews, a member of the State Board of Insurance, raised hopes of that in testimony before the interim Senate committee studying rates.
Mathews also predicted the Insurance Board will come up with a rate formula that includes company income from investments, a longstanding point of debate.
"I think the companies may be sorely disappointed in the Board," said Mathews. "We may not get around to an auto rate adjustment in 1970. There are just so many hours in a day."
Company spokesmen earlier indicated they were hoping for a 15 to 20 per cent rate hike this year. A delay in Insurance Board hearing dates made postponement of any increase until after November 1 virtually inevitable. A 9.9 per cent hike was granted last year.
Critics of a further increase told the Senate Committee that rates went up twice as high as the general cost of living in the last decade. Some recommended group coverage on auto insurance.
WEI FARE OVERHAUL
Senate Welfare Reform Committee has recommended a sweeping overhaul of the system, including placing responsibility for Public Welfare Department administration in the hands of the governor.
At the same time, Committee endorsed a proposal that Welfare Department electronic data processing equipment be totally updated under a private contract to save manpower, time and money.
Study panel proposed abolishing the Texas State Board of Public Welfare and substituting

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:
I had just settled down on my front porch yesterday reading a newspaper and had already finished one article reporting Congress was about to set a limit of $55,000 per farm in government payments next year which I thought was fair. I believe I can just about meet expenses with that amount, it sure beats what I'm getting now, and had wondered to myself, after hurriedly reading that Chet Huntley, on retiring as a television newscaster to open up a tourist attraction in Montana, said he found astronauts boring, if he'd find tourists real exciting -- the one that came by this Johnson grass farm the other day asking directions to Temple didn't seem like he'd be too interesting to know permanently -- anyway, to get on with this sentence which is getting out of hand but take a deep breath and keep going. I was just getting well into the newspaper when a car drove up and a neighbor got out and waded through the grass and sat down on the steps and asked: "When are you going to cut your lawn? It's getting too shaggy to wade through."

"When are you going to come abreast of the times?" I asked him.
"Whatta you mean?" he demanded.
"It's the new style in lawn grass," I explained. "Us high fashion people are letting it grow longer this year. Everything is longer this year. Hair is longer. Sideburns are longer. Dresses are longer. Wall Street brokers' faces are longer. Anybody with a crew-cut lawn just ain't with it. This 1970, man."
"Uh-huh. Well, I guess I'd better be going," he said, and got up and left.
He never did say what he came for.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Peculiar Patents

Could you get a patent on an alarm clock that squirts cold water down a sleeper's neck? A man in Chicago did.

What about a balloon drawn through the sky by eagles? Or a stickpin made of candy, to be eaten after use? Or an automatic hat tipper for lazy gentlemen? These, too, all won patents.

To the inventor's neighbors, such ideas might seem pretty silly. And our patent law does say that, for an idea to be patentable, it must be "useful."

However, in deciding what is useful, the law is very tolerant chine could not possibly work, because it was contrary to the laws of nature.

Nor can you patent a device which is useful only to do evil. Thus, a court rejected a patent for a method of faking the appearance of tobacco leaves for the purpose of making them look better than they really were.

The judge said:

"Congress did not intend to extend protection (to inventions) which confer no other benefit upon the public than the opportunity of profiting by deception and fraud. The invention must be capable of some beneficial use as distinguished from a pernicious use."

But for most inventors, the test of usefulness can be passed without too much trouble. The law generally takes the same optimistic attitude that Benjamin Franklin once took when he was asked:

"What is the use of this new invention?"
Franklin's reply was:
"What is the use of a newborn child?"

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

BLASTS BIG SPENDERS FOR CROCODILE TEARS

Rep. Samuel L. Devine (Ohio) "...Not unpredictably, the big spenders in this Congress are weeping crocodile tears and screaming like a wounded banshee because the President of the United States puts the saddle right on them where it belongs..."
"Rank-and-file candidates for reelection piously vote for every emotional spending program that comes along, and generously add hundreds of millions of dollars, UNBUDGETED dollars as you well know, then turn to the electorate with smug satisfaction, and like little Jack Horner, say "Look what I have done for you--what a good boy am I..."

"Demagoguery was not invented by this Congress, but many more performances like those we have witnessed in the past couple of months will put a label on the 91st that will not be forgotten. Maybe some of our colleagues think they can have it both ways, but the people back home are smart enough to know they are the ones who will ultimately be required to pick up the check--pay the bills, for the indiscretions and excesses of those here who have a compulsion for spending, but lack the courage to enact the tax legislation to pay the bill."
"Over the weekend the President literally took the Congress to the woodshed, and scolded those big spenders who lack the courage to enact the taxes to pay for the programs they promote..."
"Everyone is suffering from inflation, and as long as the big spenders inflate the dollar by voting to spend more without generating the funds with which to pay, the problem will continue to be compounded."

"For example, take the President's veto of the Hill-Burton hospital extension.

From a personal standpoint, I voted for the Hill-Burton in committee; I voted for Hill-Burton in the House; I voted for the Hill-Burton conference report, but then the President vetoed it and pointed out the mandatory spending provisions, plus the BUSTING OF THE BUDGET BY $350 MILLION, I agreed with him and voted to sustain him.
"Does this make me anti-hospital? No, just to the demagogues and uninformed."
"Last week the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) appropriation bill zipped by the House with only 25 votes against. Do you know this bill RAVISHED THE BUDGET BY NEARLY A HALF BILLION DOLLARS, but because of the fear of being labeled anti-education, our Members marched down the line of fiscal irresponsibility--HOW THEY MOANED WHEN A RECORD VOTE WAS DEMANDED..."

"These chickens have a way of coming home to roost, and it may well be this November, when people want to know just who is responsible for inflation and big debts..."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Inflation is nonpartisan. About an equal number of Democrats and Republicans voted "No" on the HEW appropriation Bill, but they were a tiny minority.

As long as congress votes for appropriations in excess of our ability to pay, Inflation will be with us. Business and the consumer will continue to be the victims.-J.C.

(Editor's Note: Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower voted "yes" and Rep. W. R. Poage voted "yes" on the HEW bill.)

Poage Votes Against Postal Bill

Cong. W. R. Poage said he was one of 29 House members who voted against the Conference Report on the Postal Reorganization Bill, saying in his newsletter that it will result in an increase in postal rates.
"While we were able to retain a provision intended to prevent a 'closed shop,' the bill clearly contemplates strikes against the government," Poage said. "I do not believe that government employees should be invited to strike against their government."
The bill contains a retroactive pay raise which is "highly inflationary," he added. Poage said the bill, in effect, authorizes the creation of a $40 billion indebtedness by the government, resulting in an increase in postal rates.
The major activity of the past week was passage of the Farm Bill by the House, Poage said.
He emphasized that "under the terms of the new bill payments will be made for growing the domestic portion of a particular crop rather than for not growing, but it is still important that a large part of our farmers join in the program in order to balance supply and demand."
The vote on this bill, which included a $55,000 limitation on payments to individuals, was 212 to 171.
The bill must now receive approval in the Senate.

ANNUAL EXAMS SET FOR TAX PRACTITIONERS

Final notice was given to tax practitioners, other than attorneys and CPAs, of the deadline of August 31, 1970, to file application to take the Internal Revenue Service examination to practice before the Treasury Department.

This is not an examination to obtain employment with the IRS. District Director of Internal Revenue R. L. Phinney said today in Austin that this annual examination will be held in all IRS district offices on September 28 and 29, 1970.

Persons so interested may obtain application forms and complete instructions by writing to the Chief, Administration Division, Internal Revenue Service, 300 East 8th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

Plan Winter Pastures Now

By J. D. Moore

"Produce more quality forage" was one of the guidelines for more profitable beef production adopted by Milam County cattlemen.

It is estimated that Milam stockmen have near 118,000 acres of improved and unimproved pasture land not including woodland devoted to pasture. With some 34,500 cows, the estimated stocking rate is 3.5 acres of total pasture per cow.

With dry weather reducing summer pasture growth, winter pastures will be more important than ever. Winter pastures don't "just happen". They are well planned in advance.

Winter grazing comes from forage growth during the fall; consequently, winter pastures should produce abundant growth during early fall months, if they are to be profitable.

Growth begins with good quality seed. And seed should be planted early in the fall to utilize fall rains and favorable temperatures for growth.

These conditions are favorable for insects, such as fall armyworm; however, this pest can be easily and economically controlled with safe pesticides. The expense of an insecticide application is well justified when one considers additional growth obtained from early planting.

High fertilization is an essential for profitable forage production. Because of the high protein content of winter pastures, abundant supplies of nitrogen are necessary. At least 60 to 80 pounds of nitrogen is needed to obtain adequate fall growth.

A soil test to determine exact amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime and other nutrients needed for optimum forage growth is suggested now. Because winter pastures are needed during the winter months, grazing should be withheld until cool temperatures arrive. This is usually in November or early December.

Thus, forage growth can accumulate and be available for livestock during cold winter days when vitamins and minerals are most urgently needed.

ASCS

Eligible farm voters have only 5 days left in which to circulate and sign nominating petitions for ASC community committees. August 17 is the final date petitions may be filed at the Milam County ASCS Office. Mail elections are set for the second week in September.

It is worth re-emphasizing to farmers who are eligible to vote that nominating candidates by petition is of prime importance. If six or more eligible candidates are nominated by petition in an ASC community, no other names will go on the ballot.

In the past, the incumbent community committee also had the privilege of making nominations. Now, a community committee may nominate only if fewer than six eligible candidates are nominated by petition -- and the committee may nominate only the number of candidates needed to make up a full slate of six nominees.

No special forms are required for a petition -- only a sheet of paper naming the candidate and the ASC community. Signatures of at least six eligible voters in the community are required on each petition. Only one candidate may be named on a petition but voters may sign as many petitions as they want.

In general, to be eligible either to become a candidate or to vote, a person must have a farm interest in the community and must be eligible to participate in one or more programs administered by the County ASCS Office.

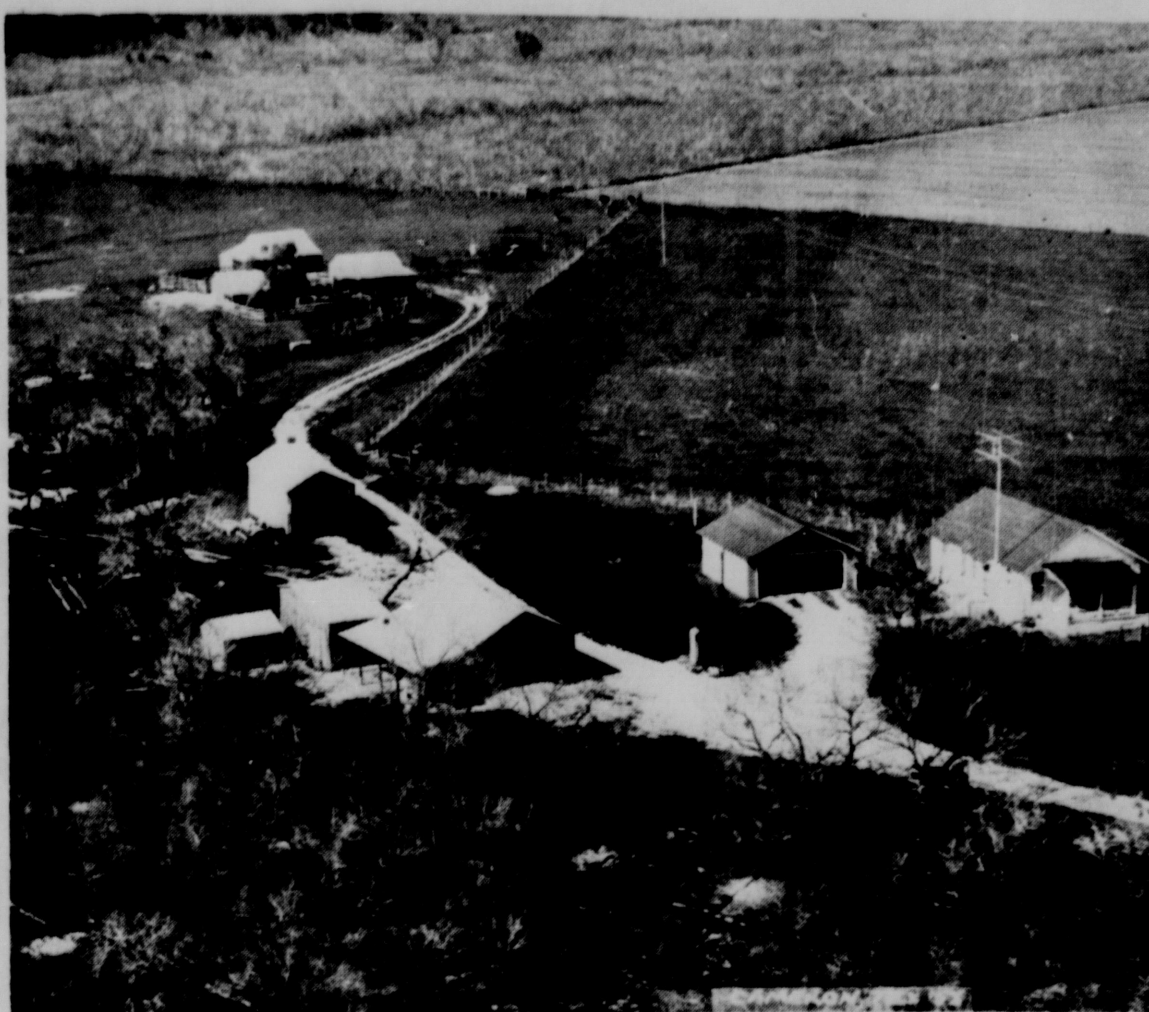

Full details on eligibility requirements for candidates and voters are available at the County ASCS Office, along with a list of known eligible voters in the county.

Each year eligible farmers nominate and elect ASC community committees of three members and two alternates. The community committees elect persons to fill vacancies on their County ASC Committee and also help administer farm programs such as farm acreage allotments and bases, and conservation cost-sharing.

They are the key people the U. S. Department of Agriculture relies upon for direct contact with producers. Community committees help keep farmers informed of farm program provisions. They advise their County ASC committee on the farm situation in their communities and assist in administering farm programs on the local level.

The Milam County ASC Committee hopes that this year farmers will nominate by petition every candidate whose name goes on a ballot.

Personal Injuries Suit Ends In Mistrial Here

A suit for personal injuries set for trial in Milam County District Court on a change of venue from Brazos County ended in a mistrial late last Thursday when the jury was unable to reach a verdict.

The suit resulted from a shooting incident in Brazos County in September, 1966. Clarence W. Cobb was the plaintiff and was seeking actual and punitive damages of over $130,000 for injuries he suffered when shot four years ago. Ralph Y. Cobb was the defendant in the action.

The case went to the jury after final arguments by attorneys about 4 p.m. Thursday. After more than five hours of deliberation the jury informed Judge W. C. Wallace it was hopelessly deadlocked and he discharged it about 9:45 p.m. Thursday.

Testimony began Tuesday afternoon and about a dozen witnesses took the stand. Witnesses gave conflicting testimony on several points of the shooting affair, but related this series of events:

Clarence Cobb testified that shortly after noon on Sept. 11, 1966, a Sunday, he and a man named Harry Kenney were driving a herd of his cattle from his home place down a country road to pen them in a corral in an adjoining pasture. This tract was part of an estate his late father had left in trust.

As they neared it, he asked Kenney to go open the pasture gate, but Kenney called to him that it was wired shut. Clarence Cobb said he then rode up, dismounted from his horse and looked at the gate. He then saw Ralph Cobb sitting in a pickup nearby with another man, later identified as an uncle, Henry Lawrence Reede.

He also testified that another man, Ronnie Mathews, was in the vicinity at the time. Mathews, his son - in - law, was in a pickup parked a hundred yards or more down the road. He had arrived to help herd the cattle.

Clarence Cobb said he walked toward the pickup in which Ralph Cobb was sitting and saw him pull a gun and told him: "Put the damn gun up."

consin.

A great vote of thanks should be given to the Dan McDaniel family for the help they have given the IFYE program in Milam County.

He was shot the first time in the right side, he said. Then as he was backing away with his hands at his sides, Ralph Cobb got out of the pickup and shot him a second time in the chest near the heart, and he fell face down in the road.

Harry Kenney, following on the witness stand, corroborated his account. He said when he approached the gate, Ralph Cobb told him he had wired it up and to leave it alone. When Clarence Cobb came up and saw it, he testified he said: "We'll see about that!" and walked toward Ralph Cobb's pickup, and was shot.

Just before Ralph Cobb fired the second shot, he quoted him as saying: "Don't come at me with a knife!"

He ran behind some of the cattle, Kenney said, and called to Ralph Cobb that Clarence did not have a knife -- and Ralph Cobb turned the gun in his direction and told him: "Keep out of this and shut your mouth!"

It was at this point, he said, that Ralph Cobb apparently saw Ronnie Mathews down the road with a rifle in his hands, and went back to his pickup and he and Reede drove away.

Mathews, who also testified, said he was too far away to hear any of the conversation, but did see most of what occurred. He said he carried Clarence Cobb to a Bryan hospital in his pickup.

Henry Lawrence Reede, testifying as a defense witness, said he was visiting in the Cobb home and accompanied Ralph Cobb when they rode around the pasture that day. They arrived at the gate just as the cattle were being driven up.

He said Clarence Cobb walked rapidly towards the pickup, obviously very angry, and Ralph Cobb took the gun from the glove compartment and shot through the door. He corroborated that he said: "Don't pull a knife on me!" before getting out and shooting again. At that time, he declared, Clarence Cobb was backing away a few steps but had his right hand in his pocket and he saw "some metallic object" partly pulled out that could be a knife.

Just after the second shot, Reede said, he saw Ronnie Mathews down the road working the bolt of a rifle and then leveling it down on them, and called to Ralph Cobb: "Look out, that man is going to shoot you!" At the same time he ran behind the pickup for protection. Then he said: "Let's get out of here and go get the sheriff!"

Reede denied that Ralph Cobb had walked towards Clarence Cobb with the gun after he fell in the road, or that he threatened Kenney with it.

Ralph Cobb testified that he had leased the estate land a short time before from the trustees handling it for $5,000, for one year, and had wired up the gate the day before the shooting. He corroborated his uncle, Henry Lawrence Reede's testimony about the shooting and also said he saw Clarence Cobb pulling what looked like a knife from his pocket just before he fired the second time.

The defense also put several witnesses on the stand who testified that Ralph Cobb had a peaceful law-abiding reputation in the area.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were Robert K. Ramsey and Robert L. Ellett. Defense attorneys were Mac L. Bennett, Jr., W. T. Bennett and Don Humble.

Hot Weather Tip . . . Try Night Bass Fishing

AUSTIN — While fishing for bass at night is not a new technique, it has only recently become popular with the average bass angler. Professional guides and other experts have known and used the method for years with good results.

With increasing emphasis on water-oriented sports activities, night fishing is likely to increase still further in popularity as more and more bass fishermen shun our public reservoirs on hot midsummer days and during peak hours of water sports in favor of a cooler and less crowded fishing period.

Many theories abound as to when is the best time to fish at night. Some anglers prefer the period from sunset to midnight, others fish only from midnight until dawn and still others fish only after the moonrise or moonset.

Many fishermen like to start night fishing at dusk so their eyes adjust gradually to the increasing darkness enabling them to see well at full dark. The more rugged types simply carry plenty of black coffee and fish all night.

Regardless of what is actually the best time, advocates of each fishing period catch enough black bass to keep them set on their favorite time of night to fish.

In the interest of safety and compliance with State boating regulations, proper lights are required when moving to and from fishing areas. After you reach a likely spot, however, all lights should be turned down to minimum safety requirements. Should another boat approach, quickly flip on lights to maximum capacity to prevent possible collision or swamping.

On popular type of lure used for night fishing is a topwater plug with a dark surface. While at first the advisability of using a dark lure at night may seem questionable, remember that the fish will not be looking at the plug as humans would, dark against darkness, but will spot the lure as a dark, frog-like object contrasted against a lighter background -- the sky.

While many prefer surface plugs, other anglers choose underwater lures for night fishing. Those with large spinner blades seem to be the most effective type. And endless assortment of "safety-pin" type lures are the ones most often used.

On characteristic common to these lures is that their spinning blades create underwater turbulence and send out vibrations which bass seem to find irresistible.

PI ASTIC WORMS

Becoming increasingly popular with nighttime bass fishermen is the plastic worm. This lure, which has practically revolutionized bass fishing during the last decade, can be effectively fished either near the surface or on the bottom with excellent results.

It is relatively easy to understand how a bass feeding in the shallows can locate a noisy surface lure or take a spinner-type lure fluttering by its nose at mid-depths, but it is difficult to comprehend how a bass can find a pencil-sized black worm sinking silently along the lake bottom at night.

They do, however, and with enough regularity that worm fishing for bass at night has become a very popular and highly competitive sport among fishermen on some of the newer

The bride wore a formal gown with chapel length train of candlelight silk organza combined with re-embroidered alencon lace. The A-line silhouette was designed with a high neckline and long Bishop sleeves. The Bishop sleeves were accented by deep fitted cuffs. ## JonesPrairie Native Is 'East Texan Of Month'

A native of Jones Prairie has been named "East Texan of the Month" by East Texas Magazine. He is Phillip Reid, now president and chairman of the board of the Irving Bank & Trust Co.

Reid has had 46 years of banking experience, including 13 years with the Citizens National Bank of Cameron.

"It has been said many times that citizens of the community or region must pay for the space they occupy by giving of themselves in order to make their city or area a more productive, more attractive, and in general a more desirable and profitable place to live and make a living," The East Texas Chamber of Commerce says of Reid.

"(Reid) is certainly one who not only subscribes to this theory but puts it into practice through his actions. This East Texan is a leader, but his leadership takes the form of quiet, unassuming but positive action, but always pleasant and outgoing, which makes following his leadership a pleasure and thus more productive," the article says.

Reid came to Irving in 1954. He is now serving his second term as a member of the ETC of C's board of directors and has been a vice president.

He holds a life membership in the Dallas Civitan Club, serving as director in 1952 and 53. He has been active in supporting Boy Scouts, among other organizations.

An Elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Irving, for many years he was a Trustee of the Presbytery of Northeast Texas.

Reid and his wife Beryl and two children, a daughter, Mrs. Ralph W. Chambers, and her two children live in Irving, and a son, William Mack Reid, in Puerto Rico.

Get The Light From GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE GUIDE YOU TO HIS CHURCH

Luke 6:31

And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also
to them likewise

What do you really wish that men would do to you... leave you alone? Try it and you will have a lonely world... no home, no neighborhood, no church, no nation. Do you expect your employees to work for you while you forget their welfare. Do you wish others to deal kindly and generously with you? Do you demand that people be honest, truthful, and trustworthy with you? Would you rather others be courteous, and appreciative of you and lend a helping hand when you have a hard task to do? They who keep the Golden Rule will discover that it must work both ways. It is "the rule of God." In every land and in every age it is the basic rule for good living. One cannot improve on it. If you want Golden Rule treatment from others you must give Golden Rule treatment to them. It will work in the experiences of every man. It is the Divine Way. The Golden Rule is still very Golden.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are discovered with benedictions that fairly and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we go to Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT (HJR28)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 52, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 52. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, the Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town or other political corporation or subdivision of the State to lend its credit or to grant public money or thing of value in aid of, or to any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in such corporation, association or company.

"(b) Under Legislative provision, any county, any political subdivision of a county, any number of adjoining counties, or any political subdivision of the State, or any defined district now or hereafter to be described and defined within the State of Texas, and which may or may not include towns, villages or municipal corporations, upon a vote of two-thirds majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of such district or territory to be affected thereby, in addition to all other debts, may issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such district or territory, except that the total bonded indebtedness of any city or town shall never exceed the limits imposed by other provisions of this Constitution, and levy and collect taxes to pay the interest thereon and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof, as the Legislature may authorize, and in such manner as it may authorize the same, for the following purposes to wit:

"(1) The improvement of rivers, creeks, and streams to prevent overflows, and to permit of navigation thereof, or irrigation thereof, or in aid of such purposes.

"(2) The construction and maintenance of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purposes of irrigation, drainage or navigation, or in aid thereof.

"(3) The construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof.

"(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (b) of this Section, bonds may be issued by any county in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county, for the construction, maintenance, and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of the county, and without the necessity of further or amendatory legislation. The county may levy and collect taxes to pay the interest on the bonds as it becomes due and to provide a sinking fund for redemption of the bonds."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment authorizing any county, on the vote of a majority of its qualified property taxpayers electors, to issue road bonds in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county."

Time To Plan A Fall Garden

COLLEGE STATION
Fall and cold weather don't limit the vegetable crops one can grow, and a fall garden comes packaged with a guarantee of fresh air and exercise.
"It is time to start preparing seed beds and growing transplants for fall gardens," J. E. Larsen, Texas A&M University

Extension horticulturist, reminds, "Your rewards will last through the first blossoms of early fall to the last, crisp bite of delicious vegetables in mid-winter."
Fall and midwinter temperatures are made to order for such tasty treats as cabbage, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, turnips, mustard and spinach. Dr. Larsen said. Cucumbers and squash put on their best qualities during the cooler period, and tomatoes need night temperatures in the 60 to 70 F., he added.

"There are many secrets to a thriving garden," Dr. Larsen said. "These secrets are relatively simple to carry out and add to its success."
"Soil fumigation pays big dividends in disease, nematode and weed control and several products are on the market. Some require a plastic cover while others can be used with reasonable success without a cover."
The secret in soil fumigation is in following the manufacturer's directions carefully and watching the time interval between application and planting, he said.

"Plants are like people," Dr. Larsen explained. "They have distinct personalities. They want big gulps of water at certain times and tiny sips at others."
During the early part of the season, supply your garden with a big gulp, Dr. Larsen said. Now's the time when temperatures are high and seed are being planted, he continued.
"Frequent light sprinklings, should follow the good soaking gulp and continue until seedlings emerge," he said. "After this, supply at least one to two inches of water during the early season and at least one inch per week later on.

"To keep down disease, water, early enough to the day so that the foliage is dry before night."
A two to three inch mulch of decomposed organic matter, grass clippings, sawdust or other material helps conserve moisture, keep down weeds and reduce cultivation, Dr. Larsen said, adding that a heat absorbing mulch should be avoided.
"Use a 5-20-10 fertilizer on silt loams and clay soils and a 5-20-20 combination on sandy soils," he said. "Before spading, broadcast at a rate of 15 to 20 pounds to each 1,000 square feet, then after planting apply an additional ten pounds to each 1,000 square feet in bands two inches to either side of the seed row and two inches deep.

"Be certain fertilizer does not come in direct contact with seeds."
Sandy soils will probably need an additional sidedressing of nitrogen after rains, he said. Use ammonium nitrate for fall and winter applications since nitrate nitrogen is more readily available to the plant in cool weather, Dr. Larsen said.

LET'S KEEP IT CLEAN

Urging Modern Judiciary...

Chief Justice Burger sees the American judicial process for what it is, late 19th Century, and calls for vast overhaul to take the load off a judiciary buried in trials and appeals.

He proposes administrators to process cases so judges can judge, like they are supposed to do. He urges additional moneys to modernize the system, even with automation, so that antiquarian system might have a chance against the backlog and growing pile of untried cases.

Justice Burger says that fair and speedy trial is a real deterrent to rising crime. Prosecutors note the defendant is at greater advantage, guilty or not, when the court process fails of quick trial after indictment.

Justice Burger sees what must be done. He literally lobbied among influential leaders at American Bar Association a few days before his Monday speech, a first "State of the Judiciary."

He wants priorities. He asks the nation's lawyers and the American public to join in the effort to turn the situation around. He is exercising leadership in an area once so "gray" in circumspection it is now black with gloom over the prospects of recovering balance for court caseload.

And he is right. It can be done, even in the largest cities. Justice will be served if we desire its ends.

As legal language should change, Justice Burger is urging the judiciary system to change. And if American judiciary is to function, the Justice's appeal, his unprecedented zeal must be heeded.

Poage Votes Against Postal Bill

Cong. W. R. Poage said he was one of 29 House members who voted against the Conference Report on the Postal Reorganization Bill, saying in his news-letter that it will result in an increase in postal rates.

"While we were able to retain a provision intended to prevent a 'closed shop,' the bill clearly contemplates strikes against the government," Poage said. "I do not believe that government employees should be invited to strike against their government."

The bill contains a retroactive pay raise which is "highly inflationary," he added. Poage said the bill, in effect, authorizes the creation of a $40 billion indebtedness by the government, resulting in an increase in postal rates.

The major activity of the past week was passage of the Farm Bill by the House, Poage said.

He emphasized that "under the terms of the new bill payments will be made for growing the domestic portion of a particular crop rather than for not growing, but it is still important that a large part of our farmers join in the program in order to balance supply and demand."

The vote on this bill, which included a $55,000 limitation on payments to individuals, was 212 to 171.

The bill must now receive approval in the Senate.

ANNUAL EXAMS SET FOR TAX PRACTITIONERS

Final notice was given to tax practitioners, other than attorneys and CPAs, of the deadline of August 31, 1970, to file application to take the Internal Revenue Service examination to practice before the Treasury Department.

This is not an examination to obtain employment with the IRS. District Director of Internal Revenue R. L. Phinney said today in Austin that this annual examination will be held in all IRS district offices on September 28 and 29, 1970.

Persons so interested may obtain application forms and complete instructions by writing to the Chief, Administration Division, Internal Revenue Service, 300 East 8th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

'Hold Spending Down,' State Urgencies Urged

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
Soaring state budget requests led the Legislative Budget Board to urge all agencies to hold spending in 1972-73 to essentials.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Board chairman, sounded the warning that a "critical financial condition" looms which demands "economy-minded" government.

In a letter directed to state agencies, Board advises that they submit suggestions at an early date on where fat can be trimmed from their appropriations requests.

"Reluctant" fat trimmers should be invited back for a second hearing before the Board, Barnes said.

Requests already submitted reportedly exceed the expected income for the 1972-73 biennium by more than $1 billion.

Estimates of the amount of the 1971 tax bill which will be needed to support adequate services for state agencies in the face of expanding demands still range from $350 to $700 million.

Some ranking legislators fear a revenue bill of that magnitude will be virtually impossible to pass in view of the fact that lawmakers voted $350 million in new taxes only last year.

Budget Board's recommendations on spending usually are more conservative than those finally adopted by Legislature. However, they serve as take-off points for the House Appropriations Committee and Senate Finance Committee deliberations.

AUTO INSURANCE DELAY
Texas motorists got a hint of good news: they may escape a raise in auto insurance premiums altogether this year.

Charles D. Mathews, a member of the State Board of Insurance, raised hopes of that in testimony before the interim Senate committee studying rates.

Mathews also predicted the Insurance Board will come up with a rate formula that includes company income from investments, a longstanding point of debate.

"I think the companies may be sorely disappointed in the Board," said Mathews. "We may not get around to an auto rate adjustment in 1970. There are just so many hours in a day."

Company spokesmen earlier indicated they were hoping for a 15 to 20 per cent rate hike this year. A delay in Insurance Board hearing dates made postponement of any increase until after November 1 virtually inevitable.

A 9.9 per cent hike was granted last year.

Critics of a further increase told the Senate Committee that rates went up twice as high as the general cost of living in the last decade. Some recommended group coverage on auto insurance.

WEI FARE OVERHAUL
Senate Welfare Reform Committee has recommended a sweeping overhaul of the system, including placing responsibility for Public Welfare Department administration in the hands of the governor.

At the same time, Committee endorsed a proposal that Welfare Department electronic data processing equipment be totally updated under a private contract to save manpower, time and money.

Study panel proposed abolishing the Texas State Board of Public Welfare and substituting an advisory panel to the governor. Also the name of the agency would be changed to Department of Human Resources under Committee recommendations to be submitted to the Legislature next January.

Computer experts estimated new electronic data processing equipment could save the state an addition of 2,600 people in the Welfare Department at a cost of $8.5 million a year.

In the second day of hearings, Committee was told that administrative costs alone of the Medicaid Program were $11.6 million in Texas during less than three years. Committee recommended an "experienced executive having an insurance background" be employed to coordinate Medicaid functions now scattered among several branches of the Welfare agency.

SPECIAL OIL MEETING
World oil crisis and Hurricane Celia prompted a special meeting of the Railroad Commission this week (Aug. 10) to reassess August oil allowable.

Commission earlier had set the market demand factor at 62.9 per cent for August, which would produce about 3,220,518 barrels of oil daily.

Since that action, Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said, some companies have indicated a desire to buy additional Texas crude. On the other hand, said Ramsey, Hurricane Celia complicated movements of crude from South Texas and some West Texas fields to tidewater.

Commission invited crude purchasers and transportation executives to its Monday (Aug. 10) meeting "to assess effects of Hurricane Celia on the movement of crude, as well as the logistical problems of moving crude from other Texas areas to Gulf Coast and to markets elsewhere."

Closing of Tapline, a major oil line from the Middle East to the Mediterranean, plus high tanker rates for transporting oil around the southern tip of Africa to Western European and East Coast markets substantially raised the need for Texas crude, Ramsey noted.

I AND RECOVERY SOUGHT
School Land Board requested Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to see if a lawsuit is feasible to recover state land from the Calhoun County Navigation District.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler estimated that the district bought for $1 an acre as much as 20,000 acres in state land it doesn't need for its functions as a navigation district.

Some of the land was resold to private developers, including the Key Allegro subdivision near Rockport, and is valued at $33,098 an acre now.

True, you cannot get a patent on something that has no use at all. For example, an inventor claiming to have created a "perpetual motion machine" was turned down on this ground. The ruling pointed out that the machine could not possibly work, because it was contrary to the laws of nature.

Nor can you patent a device which is useful only to do evil. Thus, a court rejected a patent for a method of faking the appearance of tobacco leaves for the purpose of making them look better than they really were.

The judge said:

But for most inventors, the test of usefulness can be passed without too much trouble. The law generally takes the same optimistic attitude that Benjamin Franklin once took when he was asked:

"What is the use of this new invention?"

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:
I had just settled down on my front porch yesterday reading a newspaper and had already finished one article reporting Congress was about to set a limit of $55,000 per farm in government payments next year which I thought was fair. I believe I can just about meet expenses with that amount. It sure beats what I'm getting now, and had wondered to myself, after hurriedly reading that Chet Huntley, on retiring as a television news-caster to open up a tourist attraction in Montana, said he found tourists real exciting -- the one that came by this Johnson's gas farm the other day asking directions to Temple didn't seem like he'd be too interesting to know permanently -- anyway, to get on with this sentence which is getting out of hand but take a deep breath and keep going. I was just getting well into the newspaper when a car drove up and a neighbor got out and waded through the grass and sat down on the steps and asked: "When are you going to cut your lawn? It's getting too shaggy to wade through."

"When are you going to come abreast of the times?" I asked him.
"Whatta you mean?" he demanded.
"It's the new style in lawn grass," I explained. "Us high fashion people are letting it grow longer this year. Everything is longer this year. Hair is longer. Sideburns are longer. Dresses are longer. Wall Street brokers' faces are longer. Anybody with a crew-cut lawn just ain't with it. This 1970, man."
"Uh-huh. Well, I guess I'd better be going," he said, and got up and left.
He never did say what he came for.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Peculiar Patents

Could you get a patent on an alarm clock that squirts cold water down a sleeper's neck? A man in Chicago did.

What about a balloon drawn through the sky by eagles? Or a stickpin made of candy, to be eaten after use? Or an automatic hat tipper for lazy gentlemen? These, too, all won patents.

To the inventor's neighbors, such ideas might seem pretty silly. And our patent law does say that, for an idea to be patentable, it must be "useful."

However, in deciding what is useful, the law is very tolerant indeed. The law remembers (even if the neighbors don't) that people laughed too at Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone and at the Wright brothers' first airplane.

True, you cannot get a patent on something that has no use at all. For example, an inventor claiming to have created a "perpetual motion machine" was turned down on this ground. The ruling pointed out that the machine could not possibly work, because it was contrary to the laws of nature.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

BLASTS BIG SPENDERS FOR CROCODILE TEARS

Rep. Samuel L. Devine (Ohio) "... Not unpredictably, the big spenders in this Congress are weeping crocodile tears and screaming like a wounded banshee because the President of the United States puts the saddle right on them where it belongs. . .

"Rank-and-file candidates for reelection piously vote for every emotional spending program that comes along, and generously add hundreds of millions of dollars, UNBUDGETED dollars as you well know, then turn to the electorate with smug satisfaction, and like little Jack Horner, say "Look what I have done for you--what a good boy am I." . .

"Demagoguery was not invented by this Congress, but many more performances like those we have witnessed in the past couple of months will put a label on the 91st that will not be forgotten. Maybe some of our colleagues think they can have it both ways, but the people back home are smart enough to know they are the ones who will ultimately be required to pick up the check--pay the bills, for the indiscretions and excesses of those here who have a compulsion for spending, but lack the courage to enact the tax legislation to pay the bill.

"Over the weekend the President literally took the Congress to the woodshed, and scolded those big spenders who lack the courage to enact the taxes to pay for the programs they promote. . .

"Everyone is suffering from inflation, and as long as the big spenders inflate the dollar by voting to spend more without generating the funds with which to pay, the problem will continue to be compounded.

"For example, take the President's veto of the Hill-Burton hospital extension.

From a personal standpoint, I voted for the Hill-Burton in committee; I voted for Hill-Burton in the House; I voted for the Hill-Burton conference report, but then the President vetoed it and pointed out the mandatory spending provisions, plus the BUSTING OF THE BUDGET BY $350 MILLION, I agreed with him and voted to sustain him.

"Does this make me anti-hospital? No, just to the demagogues and uninformed.

"Last week the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) appropriation bill zipped by the House with only 25 votes against. Do you know this bill RAVISHED THE BUDGET BY NEARLY A HALF BILLION DOLLARS, but because of the fear of being labeled anti-education, our Members marched down the line of fiscal irresponsibility--HOW THEY MOANED WHEN A RECORD VOTE WAS DEMANDED. . .

"These chickens have a way of coming home to roost, and it may well be this November, when people want to know just who is responsible for inflation and big debts. . .

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Inflation is nonpartisan. About an equal number of Democrats and Republicans voted "No" on the HEW appropriation Bill, but they were a tiny minority.

As long as congress votes for appropriations in excess of our ability to pay, inflation will be with us. Business and the consumer will continue to be the victims. -J.C.

(Editor's Note: Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower voted "yes" and Rep. W. R. Poage voted "yes" on the HEW bill.)

Plan Winter Pastures Now

By J. D. Moore

"Produce more quality forage" was one of the guidelines for more profitable beef production adopted by Milam County cattlemen.

It is estimated that Milam stockmen have near 118,000 acres of improved and unimproved pasture land not including woodland devoted to pasture. With some 34,500 cows, the estimated stocking rate is 3.5 acres of total pasture per cow.

With dry weather reducing summer pasture growth, winter pastures will be more important than ever. Winter pastures don't "just happen". They are well planned in advance.

Winter grazing comes from forage growth during the fall; consequently, winter pastures should produce abundant growth during early fall months, if they are to be profitable.

Growth begins with good quality seed. And seed should be planted early in the fall to utilize fall rains and favorable temperatures for growth.

These conditions are favorable for insects, such as fall armyworm; however, this pest can be easily and economically controlled with safe pesticides. The expense of an insecticide application is well justified when one considers additional growth obtained from early planting.

High fertilization is an essential for profitable forage production. Because of the high protein content of winter pastures, abundant supplies of nitrogen are necessary. At least 60 to 80 pounds of nitrogen is needed to obtain adequate fall growth.

A soil test to determine exact amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime and other nutrients needed for optimum forage growth is suggested now.

Because winter pastures are needed during the winter months, grazing should be withheld until cool temperatures arrive. This is usually in November or early December.

Thus, forage growth can accumulate and be available for livestock during cold winter days when vitamins and minerals are most urgently needed.

ASCS

Eligible farm voters have only 5 days left in which to circulate and sign nominating petitions for ASC community committees. August 17 is the final date petitions may be filed at the Milam County ASCS Office. Mail elections are set for the second week in September.

It is worth re-emphasizing to farmers who are eligible to vote that nominating candidates by petition is of prime importance. If six or more eligible candidates are nominated by petition in an ASC community, no other names will go on the ballot.

In the past, the incumbent community committee also had the privilege of making nominations. Now, a community committee may nominate only if fewer than six eligible candidates are nominated by petition -- and the committee may nominate only the number of candidates needed to make up a full slate of six nominees.

No special forms are required for a petition -- only a sheet of paper naming the candidate and the ASC community. Signatures of at least six eligible voters in the community are required on each petition. Only one candidate may be named on a petition but voters may sign as many petitions as they want.

In general, to be eligible to become a candidate or to vote, a person must have a farm interest in the community and must be eligible to participate in one or more programs administered by the County ASCS Office.

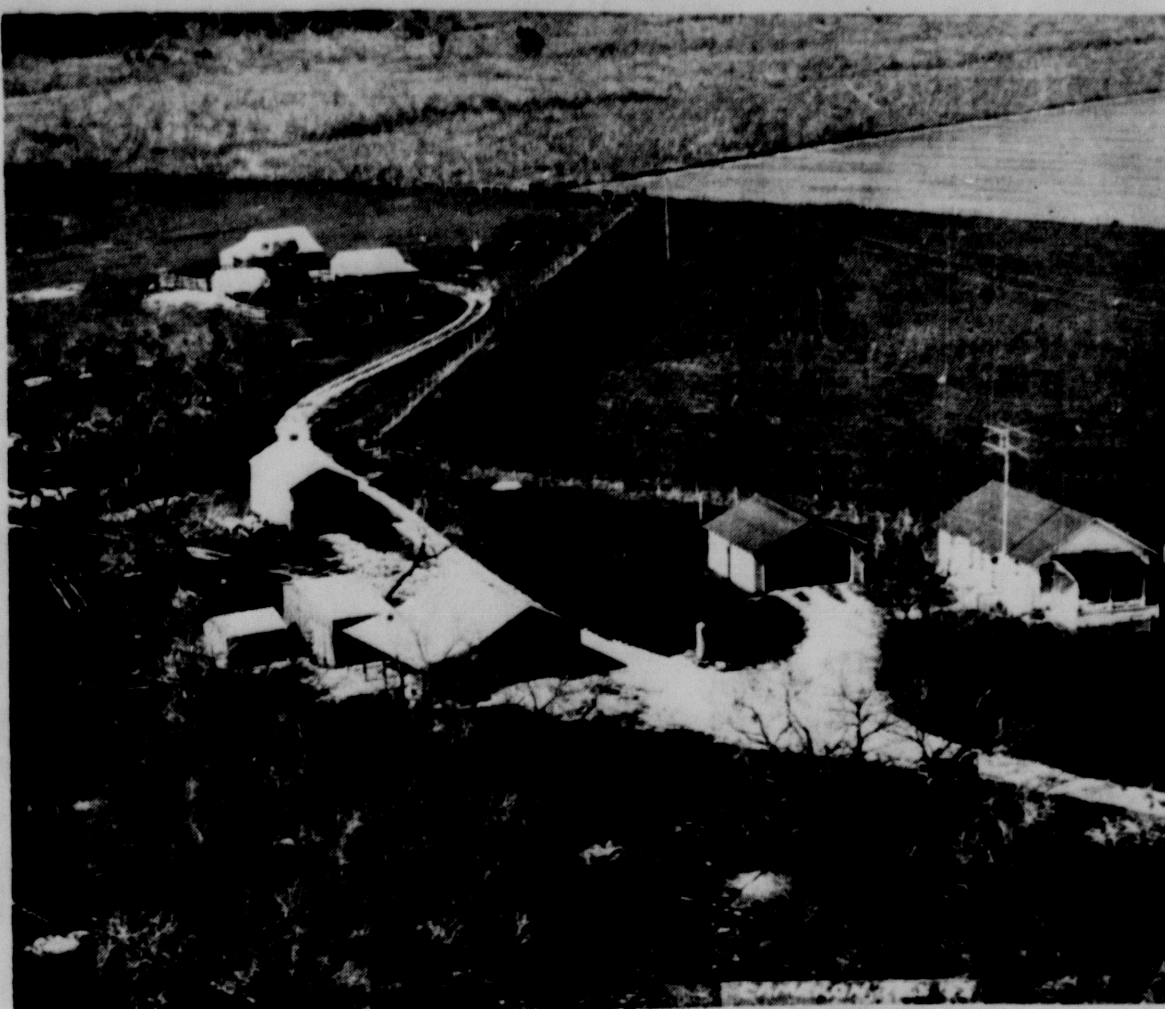

Full details on eligibility requirements for candidates and voters are available at the County ASCS Office, along with a list of known eligible voters in the county.

Each year eligible farmers nominate and elect ASC community committees of three members and two alternates. The community committees elect persons to fill vacancies on their County ASC Committee and also help administer farm programs such as farm acreage allotments and bases, and conservation cost-sharing.

They are the key people the U. S. Department of Agriculture relies upon for direct contact with producers. Community committees help keep farmers informed of farm program provisions. They advise their County ASC committee on the farm situation in their communities and assist in administering farm programs on the local level.

The Milam County ASC Committee hopes that this year farmers will nominate by petition every candidate whose name goes on a ballot.

Personal Injuries Suit Ends In Mistrial Here

A suit for personal injuries set for trial in Milam County District Court on a change of venue from Brazos County ended in a mistrial late last Thursday when the jury was unable to reach a verdict.

The suit resulted from a shooting incident in Brazos County in September, 1966. Clarence W. Cobb was the plaintiff and was seeking actual and punitive damages of over $130,000. For injuries he suffered when shot four years ago. Ralph Y. Cobb was the defendant in the action.

The case went to the jury after final arguments by attorneys about 4 p.m. Thursday. After more than five hours of deliberation the jury informed Judge W. C. Wallace it was hopelessly deadlocked and he discharged it about 9:45 p.m. Thursday.

Testimony began Tuesday afternoon and about a dozen witnesses took the stand. Witnesses gave conflicting testimony on several points of the shooting affray, but related this series of events:

Clarence Cobb testified that shortly after noon on Sept. 11, 1966, a Sunday, he and a man named Harry Kenney were driving a herd of his cattle from his home place down a country road to pen them in a corral in an adjoining pasture. This tract was part of an estate his late father had left in trust.

As they neared it, he asked Kenney to go open the pasture gate, but Kenney called to him that it was wired shut. Clarence Cobb said he then rode up, dismounted from his horse and looked at the gate. He then saw Ralph Cobb sitting in a pickup nearby with another man, later identified as an uncle, Henry Lawrence Reede.

He also testified that another man, Ronnie Mathews, was in the vicinity at the time. Mathews, his son - in - law, was in a pickup parked a hundred yards or more down the road. He had arrived to help herd the cattle.

Clarence Cobb said he walked toward the pickup in which Ralph Cobb was sitting and saw him pull a gun and told him: "Put the damn gun up."

consin.

A great vote of thanks should be given to the Dan McDaniel family for the help they have given the IFYE program in Milam County.

He was shot the first time in the right side, he said. Then as he was backing away with his hands at his sides, Ralph Cobb got out of the pickup and shot him a second time in the chest near the heart, and he fell face down in the road.

Harry Kenney, following on the witness stand, corroborated his account. He said when he approached the gate, Ralph Cobb told him he had wired it up and to leave it alone. When Clarence Cobb came up and saw it, he testified he said: "We'll see about that!" and walked toward Ralph Cobb's pickup, and was shot.

Just before Ralph Cobb fired the second shot, he quoted him as saying: "Don't come at me with a knife!"

He ran behind some of the cattle, Kenney said, and called to Ralph Cobb that Clarence did not have a knife -- and Ralph Cobb turned the gun in his direction and told him: "Keep out of this and shut your mouth!"

It was at this point, he said, that Ralph Cobb apparently saw Ronnie Mathews down the road with a rifle in his hands, and went back to his pickup and he and Reede drove away.

Mathews, who also testified, said he was too far away to hear any of the conversation, but did see most of what occurred. He said he carried Clarence Cobb to a Bryan hospital in his pickup.

Henry Lawrence Reede, testifying as a defense witness, said he was visiting in the Cobb home and accompanied Ralph Cobb when they rode around the pasture that day. They arrived at the gate just as the cattle were being driven up.

He said Clarence Cobb walked rapidly towards the pickup, obviously very angry, and Ralph Cobb took the gun from the glove compartment and shot through the door. He corroborated that he said: "Don't pull a knife on me!" before getting out and shooting again. At that time, he declared, Clarence Cobb was backing away a few steps but had his right hand in his pocket and he saw "some metallic object" partly pulled out that could be a knife.

Just after the second shot, Reede said, he saw Ronnie Mathews down the road working the bolt of a rifle and then leveling it down on them, and called to Ralph Cobb: "Look out, that man is going to shoot you!" At the same time he ran behind the pickup for protection. Then he said: "Let's get out of here and go get the sheriff."

Reede denied that Ralph Cobb had walked towards Clarence Cobb with the gun after he fell in the road, or that he threatened Kenney with it.

Ralph Cobb testified that he had leased the estate land a short time before from the trustees handling it for $5,000, for one year, and had wired up the gate the day before the shooting. He corroborated his uncle, Henry Lawrence Reede's testimony about the shooting and also said he saw Clarence Cobb pulling what looked like a knife from his pocket just before he fired the second time.

The defense also put several witnesses on the stand who testified that Ralph Cobb had a peaceful law-abiding reputation in the area.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were Robert K. Ramsey and Robert L. Elliott. Defense attorneys were Mac L. Bennett, Jr., W. T. Bennett and Don Humble.

Hot Weather Tip . . . Try Night Bass Fishing

AUSTIN While fishing for bass at night is not a new technique, it has only recently become popular with the average bass angler. Professional guides and other experts have known and used the method for years with good results.

With increasing emphasis on water-oriented sports activities, night fishing is likely to increase still further in popularity as more and more bass fishermen shun our public reservoirs on hot midsummer days and during peak hours of water sports in favor of a cooler and less crowded fishing period.

Many theories abound as to when is the best time to fish at night. Some anglers prefer the period from sunset to midnight, others fish only after moonset, still others fish only after moonrise or moonset.

Many fishermen like to start night fishing at dusk so their eyes adjust gradually to the increasing darkness enabling them to see well at full dark. The more rugged types simply carry plenty of black coffee and fish all night.

Regardless of what is actually the best time, advocates of each fishing period catch enough black bass to keep them set on their favorite time of night to fish.

In the interest of safety and compliance with State boating regulations, proper lights are required when moving to and from fishing areas. After you reach a likely spot, however, all lights should be turned down to minimum safety requirements. Should another boat approach, quickly flip on lights to maximum capacity to prevent possible collision or swamping.

On popular type of lure used for night fishing is a topwater plug with a dark surface. While at first the advisability of using a dark lure at night may seem questionable, remember that the fish will not be looking at the plug as humans would, dark against darkness, but will spot the lure as a dark, frog-like object contrasted against a lighter background -- the sky.

While many prefer surface plugs, other anglers choose underwater lures for night fishing. Those with large spinner blades seem to be the most effective type. And endless assortment of "safety-pin" type lures are the ones most often used.

On characteristic common to these lures is that their spinning blades create underwater turbulence and send out vibrations which bass seem to find irresistible.

PIASTIC WORMS

Becoming increasingly popular with nighttime bass fishermen is the plastic worm. This lure, which has practically revolutionized bass fishing during the last decade, can be effectively fished either near the surface or on the bottom with excellent results.

It is relatively easy to understand how a bass feeding in the shallows can locate a noisy surface lure or take a spinner-type lure fluttering by its nose at mid-depths, but it is difficult to comprehend how a bass can find a pencil-sized black worm sinking silently along the lake bottom at night.

They do, however, and with enough regularity that worm fishing for bass at night has become a very popular and highly competitive sport among fishermen on some of the newer East Texas reservoirs, noted not only for their big bass but also for their brush-filled waters. Here the plastic worm is especially effective, as it can be tossed into the shoreline or submerged vegetation with equal abandon, writes Sinclair.

When rigged as a weedless lure, the artificial worm will rarely hang up. But if it does and it can not be released after a few jerks, break it off. Plastic worms are so inexpensive that a dozen can be purchased for the price of a good surface plug.

Prior to a night fishing trip, unless you are already very familiar with the lake or plan to fish with someone who is, it would be wise to survey the lake and probable fishing territory during daylight hours. Locate and learn landmarks and other features which will be recognizable in the limited night light, Sinclair suggests.

In this era of ever-increasing daytime activity on our public lakes, the average fisherman sometimes feels that he is limited as to time and space in which to enjoy his specialty. As populations continue to rise, and as more time becomes available for leisure activities, there will be more demands for use of available recreational areas.

This may mean that we may not always be able to do things exactly as we have in the past. But why not try something different and exciting? Brew up a pot of good black coffee, call up your fishing partner and head out to your favorite lake for an experience you're not likely to forget -- bass fishing at night.

JonesPrairie Native Is 'East Texan Of Month'

A native of Jones Prairie has been named "East Texan of the Month" by East Texas Magazine. He is Phillip Reid, now president and chairman of the board of the Irving Bank & Trust Co.

Reid has had 46 years of banking experience, including 13 years with the Citizens National Bank of Cameron.

"It has been said many times that citizens of the community or region must pay for the space they occupy by giving of themselves in order to make their city or area a more productive, more attractive, and in general a more desirable and profitable place to live and make a living," The East Texas Chamber of Commerce says of Reid.

"(Reid) is certainly one who not only subscribes to this theory but puts it into practice through his actions. This East Texan is a leader, but his leadership takes the form of quiet, unassuming but positive action, but always pleasant and outgoing, which makes following his leadership a pleasure and thus more productive," the article says.

Reid came to Irving in 1954. He is now serving his second term as a member of the ETC of C's board of directors and has been a vice president.

He holds a life membership in the Dallas Civitan Club, serving as director in 1952 and 53. He has been active in supporting Boy Scouts, among other organizations.

An Elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Irving, for many years he was a Trustee of the Presbytery of Northeast Texas.

Reid and his wife Beryl and two children, a daughter, Mrs. Ralph W. Chambers, and her two children live in Irving, and a son, William Mack Reid, in Puerto Rico.

Get The Light From GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE GUIDE YOU TO HIS CHURCH

Luke 6:31

And as ye would
that men should do to you, do ye also
to them likewise

What do you really wish that men would do to you... leave you alone? Try it and you will have a lonely world... no home, no neighborhood, no church, no nation. Do you expect your employees to work for you while you forget their welfare. Do you wish others to deal kindly and generously with you? Do you demand that people be honest, truthful, and trustworthy with you? Would you rather others be courteous, and appreciative of you and lend a helping hand when you have a hard task to do? They who keep the Golden Rule will discover that it must work both ways. It is "the rule of God." In every land and in every age it is the basic rule for good living. One cannot improve on it. If you want Golden Rule treatment from others you must give Golden Rule treatment to them. It will work in the experiences of every man. It is the Divine Way. The Golden Rule is still very Golden.

Time To Plan A Fall Garden

COLLEGE STATION
Fall and cold weather don't limit the vegetable crops one can grow, and a fall garden comes packaged with a guarantee of fresh air and exercise.
"It is time to start preparing seed beds and growing transplants for fall gardens," J. E. Larsen, Texas A&M University

Extension horticulturist, reminds, "Your rewards will last through the first blossoms of early fall to the last, crisp bite of delicious vegetables in mid-winter."
Fall and midwinter temperatures are made to order for such tasty treats as cabbage, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, turnips, mustard and spinach, Dr. Larsen said. Cucumbers and squash put on their best qualities during the cooler period, and tomatoes need night temperatures in the 60 to 70 F., he added.

"There are many secrets to a thriving garden," Dr. Larsen said. "These secrets are relatively simple to carry out and add to its success."
"Soil fumigation pays big dividends in disease, nematode and weed control and several products are on the market. Some require a plastic cover while others can be used with reasonable success without a cover."
The secret in soil fumigation

is in following the manufacturer's directions carefully and watching the time interval between application and planting, he said.
"Plants are like people," Dr. Larsen explained. "They have distinct personalities. They want big gulps of water at certain times and tiny sips at others."
During the early part of the season, supply your garden with a big gulp, Dr. Larsen said. Now's the time when temperatures are high and seed are being planted, he continued.
"Frequent light sprinklings, should follow the good soaking gulp and continue until seedlings emerge," he said. "After this, supply at least one to two inches of water during the early season and at least one inch per week later on."

"To keep down disease, water, early enough to the day so that the foliage is dry before night."
A two to three inch mulch of decomposed organic matter, grass clippings, sawdust or other material helps conserve moisture, keep down weeds and reduce cultivation, Dr. Larsen said, adding that a heat absorbing mulch should be avoided.
"Use a 5-20-10 fertilizer on silt loams and clay soils and a 5-20-20 combination on sandy soils," he said. "Before spading, broadcast at a rate of 15 to 20 pounds to each 1,000 square feet, then after planting apply an additional ten pounds to each 1,000 square feet in bands two inches to either side of the seed row and two inches deep.

"Be certain fertilizer does not come in direct contact with seeds."
Sandy soils will probably need an additional sidedressing of nitrogen after rains, he said. Use ammonium nitrate for fall and winter applications since nitrate nitrogen is more readily available to the plant in cool weather, Dr. Larsen said.
